OPPOSITION TO MARKET MEASURE

Town Council Hears that Stall Holders Complain Vigorously of New Ordinance. Refuse to Revoke Action and Burgess Signs Bill.

Vigorous opposition on the part of stall holders to the new market regulations was reported by Market Master Miller at an adjourned meeting of the town council Tuesday evening and members had the matter up for a lengthy debate. No action was taken.

It may be information to the hucksters and regular market attendants to know, however, that the supplemental ordinance, which was passed last week and noted in The Times on Saturday, was not signed by Burgess Holtzworth until this morning and will not go into effect for ten days, or until June 28. Until that date none of its provisions will be effective.

Market Master Miller reported that many of the stall holders claimed that they could sell their goods to better advantage elsewhere and that, if they were not allowed to continue having things engaged before they came here and thus safeguard themselves against having an unsold excess, they would have to ship their goods or go to some other town to sell.

It was pointed out by council that the new ordinance simply prohibited bringing the goods into market which were not for sale and that they could be brought to town and delivered out of market hours if growers cared to do this. A loss of several hours' time would be the result of this, said the market master, and after a general discussion council agreed to do nothing, leaving the signing of the ordinance and its ultimate legality largely in the hands of Burgess Holtzworth.

William B. Kurtz, donor of the playground property desires to erect a building of frame construction for the residence of a care-taker and for shower baths, lockers and other conveniences. He suggested that council make an exception in his favor to the ordinance prohibiting frame structures. The building will be twenty feet off the road and, at present, not near any other structures. Council thought it a bad plan to grant the privilege, however, and Mr. Keith was the only member present who voted to allow the request.

The highway committee reported that they had contracted with the Pugh and Hubbard Company to treat the streets, authorized at the last meeting of council, with a mixture of half oil and half water at a cost of three and a half cents a square yard, the greater part of the surface dust to be removed. The action of the committee was ratified and the following additional portions of town listed for the same treatment: third block on Chambersburg street; Liberty street; West High street, from Washington to Franklin; Breckenridge street, from Washington to Franklin; Lincoln street from Carlisle street to the Harrisburg Road. The oil has been shipped and will be applied as soon as it arrives. Delay in handling freight has interfered considerably with the contractors on the work already done.

Residents of Stratton street north of Stevens asked for relief from dust and council agreed to oil Stratton street from Stevens to the Harrisburg Road provided a contribution of $25 is forthcoming. The same residents also asked for a concrete crossing at the north side of the intersection of Stratton and Stevens streets but no action was taken on this last request.

It was reported that residents of Stratton street near York were themselves applying a by-product of the gas plant to the streets in their section of town.
Chief of Police Shealer was authorized to contract with John Shultz for a horse at $2 a day, with Allen Plank for the old patrol wagon at $1 a day, and for a driver at $1.50 per day from June 28 to July 8—the same comprising a patrol wagon outfit for police duty during the "big time."

The next meeting will be held the week following the battle anniversary.

MARRIAGES HERE AND ELSEWHERE

Miss Stock and Mr. Frazer Married in Catholic Church. Prof. Fred Troxell and Miss Watkins are Married at Camp Hill.

FRAZER-STOCK

Miss Irene Marcella Stock and Lester M. Frazer, two of Gettysburg's well known young people, were married in St. Francis Xavier church at half past eight this morning by Rev. Fr. Boyle. The ring service of the Catholic church was used and the bride was given away by her father, Peter C. Stock.

The wedding party entered the church to the Lohengrin march, played by Miss Mary Ramey. The bride wore a gown of white satin messaline, made with train, and trimmed with princess lace and pearls. She wore a tulle veil and carried bride's roses. Her bridesmaid was Miss Helen Catharine Stock, her sister, who wore yellow satin trimmed with rosebuds and chiffon. She carried daisies. The color scheme of yellow and white was further carried out in the floral decorations of the altars and ribbons borne by Dorothy Weaver and Ruth Stock, who wore dainty white dresses.

During the ceremony Miss Ramey played Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and "Narcissus," and Charles W. Stock sang during the mass Weigand's "Ave Maria" and "Dream of Paradise."

At eleven o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Frazer left over the Reading for a week's trip. The bride's going away suit was of brown with a becoming hat. She received a large number of valuable presents, among them being a chest of silver and sufficient furniture to furnish a home. Upon their return to Gettysburg they will reside for a time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stock on Baltimore Hill.

TROXELL-WATKINS

On Tuesday morning June 17, at 11 o'clock in the Trinity Lutheran parsonage, at Camp Hill, Prof. Fred G. Troxell, assistant in mathematics at Gettysburg College since 1908 and Miss E. Mae Watkins, of Biglerville, were married, the Rev. E. D. Weigle, D. D. performing the ceremony. Rev. G. W. Nicely and family were present, and Mrs. Nicely played the wedding march. Mrs. U. S. Klinefelter, a cousin of the bride, of Biglerville, was also present.

After a wedding dinner, the happy couple went on a short trip to Hagerstown and Frederick city, postponing their real wedding trip several weeks, when they expect to visit relatives in Virginia with the city of Roanoke as their central place of sojourn. They will make Gettysburg their place of residence.

Mr. Troxell is a graduate of Gettysburg College, and has been prosecuting his specialty—mathematics—in connection with his duties as assistant in mathematics. CATHOLIC SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Graduates Receive Diplomas. Honors are Awarded. Elaborate Program Produced by Pupils of the Parochial Schools.

The closing exercises of St. Francis Xavier School, held Tuesday evening in Xavier Hall before a large audience, were enjoyable and even more elaborate than these annual affairs have been in the past. The hall was elaborately decorated with a scheme of streamers gracefully swung from the rafters and with crimson ramblers, other flowers, palms and ferns.

Fifty scholars opened the evening with a song "Tis Our Festival Day." They were arranged in tiers and the little tots made a very pretty sight. The welcome was given by Sylvester McKenrick and a piano duet by Helen Stock and Joanna King followed. "Beautiful Violets" was sung by Ruth Smith, Regina Breighner and Anna Dillon who scattered violets as they sang. Bernard Maguire, one of the graduates, read an essay on "Gettysburg in the Civil War."

One of the best numbers of the evening followed when a "human flag" sang the "Stars and Stripes Forever." Sixty boys and girls, in red, white and blue costumes, formed an American flag and made a very pretty sight as they sang Sousa's famous march song, "The Lily and the Rose" was the title of a song by Oneida Snyder and Eleanor King.

An innovation was next introduced in the shape of an exhibition of Indian club swinging by the physical culture class. Nine young girls gave a very creditable exhibition of the difficult task of swinging the clubs and received the most appreciative applause of the evening, finally repeating their drill. "Come where the Lilies Bloom" was sung by a large chorus and Miss Helen Stock read an essay on "The Charm of Cheerfulness."

"The Ancient World"—an elaborate production typifying the triumph of religion over former darkness—was given by a carefully trained cast handsomely costumed. It was one of the most pretentious affairs ever attempted by the pupils of the local schools but, under the careful direction of the Sisters of Charity, was given with great credit. "The Ancient World" was written by Father Abram J. Ryan and Tuesday evening was only the second time it had ever been given.

The parts were taken as follows: Time, Gertrude Slonaker; Fate, Mary Breighner; Truth, Oneida Snyder; Sorrow, Edith Culp; Medea, Gertrude Stewart; Persia, Mary Eckenrode; Greece, Margaret Redding; Rome, Joanna King; The Church, Helen Stock. A large number of others took part and the affair closed with an elaborate tableau.

William Abell was valedictorian, there was a sacred chorus and the address was made by Rev. William V. Daily, of Harrisburg. During the evening a number of selections were played by the orchestra.

Diplomas were presented to Edith Lydia Culp, Mary Ruth Breighner, William Joseph Abell, Margaret Mary Redding, Oneida Agnes Snyder, Bernard Pius Maguire, Mary Gertrude Slonaker.

For the attainment of excellence in rapid muscular movement of business writing, diplomas were awarded by the American Penman, of New York City, to Helen Stock, Mary Breighner and William Abell.

For proficiency in rapid legible business writing, certificates were awarded by the A. N. Palmer Co., of New York, to Helen Stock, Mary Breighner, William Abell, Oneida Snyder, Edith Culp, Gertrude Slonaker, Margaret Redding, Bernard Maguire, Joanna King.

A gold medal for general excellence in the Senior Department was awarded to Helen Stock.

The gold prize for exemplary conduct in the Graduating Class was awarded to Bernard Maguire.

A gold rosary for ornamental penmanship was awarded to Oneida Agnes Snyder.

For having attained the highest average in the Graduating Class a premium was awarded to Edith Culp. A premium for highest average in the Junior Class was awarded Mary Eckenrode. For the highest average in the Intermediate Room a premium was awarded Leo Dillman. For the highest average in the Primary Room a premium was awarded to Richard Stock.

A prize for good conduct in the Junior Room was awarded Helen Zhea. A prize for good conduct in the Intermediate Room was awarded Dorothy Weaver. A prize for good conduct in the Primary Room was awarded Howard Dick. A prize for selling the greatest number of tickets was awarded Ralph Redding.

"ETIQUETTE" IN ADVERTISING:

Up to within the last few years it has been considered a breach of etiquette in certain businesses and professions to advertise.

These men have said: "Oh, yes, advertising is all very well for the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, but it would not do at all for us. It is not good business ethics."

In later years, however, that idea is being abandoned, together with a lot of other old and worn out theories.

The public now looks to the advertising section of the good newspapers for information on all subjects. The demand has created the supply.

People want to know not only where they can spend their money, but where and how to invest it. This has led bankers, brokers, and other business and professional men to tell their stories in the best newspapers.

The advertising pages of a newspaper like THE TIMES are a veritable index of most lines of business activity in this community, and the day is not far distant when every legitimate business and every recognized profession will understand the value of advertising.

MARTINE IN ROW AT MINE PROBE

Coal Operator and Senator Near Fisticuffs.

RETORTS ABOUT DRINKS

Questions About Armored Train Brought on Invitation to Bar and Epithets Followed.

Charleston, W. Va., June 18.—At a stormy session of the senate mine strike committee, at which a "near fist fight" between Senator James E. Martine, of New Jersey, and Quinn Morton, manager of the Paint Creek Operators' association, was narrowly averted, the coal operators of Paint and Cabin Creeks presented their side of the controversy.

Mr. Morton, as the principal witness for the operators, presented their account of the negotiations of which preceded the strike, and detailed his activities during the troubles. His discussions of his participation in the attack on the strikers' camp at Holly Grove from an armored train precipitated the clash with Senator Martine, who was questioning him.

Only the interference of Sergeant-at-Arms Higgins, Senators Kenyon and Swanson and others in the room prevented a personal encounter.

Senator Martine, in a series of questions, had aroused Mr. Morton's ire by discussing the mine operators' opinion of "firing a machine gun into a town inhabited by women and children," connected with the attack on the strikers' camp at Holly Grove from the armored train, on which Mr. Morton rode, last February.

Twice before Senator Martine had clashed with representatives of the coal operators—C. C. Watts and Z. T. Vinson—and the big crowd that jammed the committee room was in a state of suppressed excitement. After once questioning Mr. Morton as to his participation in the shooting up of Holly Grove, Senator Martine left the hearing room, soon to return. He strode into the room and without taking his seat resumed the questioning of Mr. Morton.

Mr. Morton had denounced the attitude of Senator Martine as "outrageous," and the trouble broke out again with the first question the senator asked upon his return. He wanted to know whether or not Mr. Morton had expressed satisfaction at the effect of the firing on Holly Grove, but before he had developed his line of questioning, Senator Swanson, sensing trouble, adjourned the committee.

Mr. Morton leaned back in the witless seat as Senator Martine, his hat and heavy walking stick in his hand, stood behind the press table, still asking questions.

"Well," remarked Mr. Morton, "we'll all go down and take a few drinks and then we'll feel better."

The crowd had already begun to crowd toward the door of the room, when it was arrested by a shout of Senator Martine.

"What was that you said sir?" he demanded, leaning toward Mr. Morton. "I said we'll all go down and have a few drinks and we'll feel better," repeated the mine operator.

Pushing his way through the little throng about the stenographer's table, Senator Martine shouted:

"You are a blackguard of the worst character to address such a remark to me."

Out of the confusion that followed came the voice of Morton.

"Did you not take three drinks with me in thirty minutes?"

With a bound Senator Martine covered the short distance that separated the two men.

"You have forfeited all right to consideration as a decent white man," he shouted.

"You are an excited old man," interposed Vinson, the lawyer, as both men pressed towards each other. Vinson protested against his client being "insulted."

Senator Swanson hurried around the committee table and seized Senator Martine. Aided by Sergeant-at-Arms Higgins, he hurried him from the room, Mr. Morton and Mr. Vinson protesting in vigorous language against the proceedings.

This closed the incident.

WILSON REFUSES TO BE COOL

Shuts Down His Air-icing Plant Because of Publicity.

Washington, June 18.—Annoyed at the publicity which attended his use of the White House refrigerating plant, designed to cool the executive offices during Washington's heated term, President Wilson announced that he would "take his medicine" as hot as the senators and representatives who have to remain in the capital.

Accordingly the steady rise of the mercury in the presidential offices was unimpeded by any ice-chilled air, and a single electric fan battled feebly against the heat.

AGED LAWYER DIES IN COURT

Guy E. Farquhar Stricken With Apoplexy in Pottsville.

Pottsville, Pa., June 18.—Guy E. Farquhar, seventy-two years of age known for years as the mentor of the Schuylkill county bar, dropped dead in court while acting as counsel for the prosecution in a case in which New Philadelphia school directors are charged with misdemeanor.

Mr. Farquhar's colleagues noticed by the pallor of his face that he was getting sick, but before physicians could be summoned he was dead.

The three judges, who were busy holding sessions of criminal court, at once adjourned and a meeting of the Schuylkill county bar will be held to pay tribute of remembrance to the dead lawyer.

The case in which Mr. Farquhar was engaged was before Judge Koch, the latter as well as members of the bar being almost prostrated by the shock. Ex-Congressman James B. Reilly announced the sad event in Judge Bechtel's court and Ex-Judge A. L. Shay made the announcement to Judge Brumm. The latter, who is three years older than Farquhar, faltered as he announced that court was adjourned and hurried into the chambers with tears in his eyes.

Mr. Farquhar was an intimate associate of Franklin B. Gowen and other lawyers of national reputation who made the Schuylkill county bar famous thirty years ago, and was one of the few surviving lawyers who participated in the trial of the famous Molly Maguire cases. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

ROBBERS LOOT TRAIN

Fast Freight Stopped and Crew Battles With Thieves.

Reading, Pa., June 18.—One of the most daring holdups of a fast freight train on the Reading railway happened within the city limits, when train No. 57, from Philadelphia, was stopped at Bingham street by the Hall signals being set against it.

A moment later the seal of a freight car was twisted off and the car entered by the gang. The crew started back with a view of driving the parties away, when they were fired upon by the thieves and a battle started.

There was a regular fusillade of bullets fired by men stationed at different places to guard those who had been delegated to enter the cars.

Word was sent to the chief dispatcher's office and an officer hurried to the scene. The city authorities were telephoned to, but before they reached the scene the thieves had made their escape. The loot is said to amount to several hundred dollars.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 18.—The Davis voting machine bill was messaged to the governor by the senate. The bill passed the senate by a vote of 32 to 6. The bill creates a board of three comprising the governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of the commonwealth, the board to have power to approve, through its agent and employees, types of voting machines.

The installation of the voting machine ballot system is optional with the several counties, the decision resting with the county commissioners.

Wife Suffered

with Eczema

Husband Tells How She Was Cured

By Our Reliable Skin Remedy,

Saxo Salve.

Henry Scharp, of Snohomish, Wash., writes: "My wife has suffered with eczema for a number of years and has used most every remedy ever mentioned to her. While some gave temporary relief none ever entirely removed the trouble, until she used Saxo Salve. Now she is entirely rid of the old trouble and we recommend Saxo Salve to all our friends. It is certainly a boon to anyone suffering from eczema."

Saxo Salve allays the itching at most as soon as applied. At the same time it sinks gradually into the skin, carrying with it the soothing, antiseptic and healing ingredients and thus reaches the seat of the disease. The eruptions soon disappear and the skin becomes smooth and soft once more. Saxo Salve is guaranteed to benefit you. Money back if it does not. Peoples Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

P. S. The best tonic reconstructor for the blood is Vinol. Try it on our guarantee.

TAKES POISON PILL INSTEAD OF QUININE

Philadelphia Merchant May Die Like Georgia Banker.

Philadelphia, June 18.—As a result of swallowing bichloride of mercury tablet in mistake for a quinine pill, Charles A. Brice, a commission merchant, living at 4547 Sanson street, is in a serious condition at the Habnemann hospital.

He swallowed the tablet while riding in his motor car and collapsed in the car.

Mr. Brice's case is similar, according to the hospital physicians, to that of the banker in Macon, Ga., who swallowed the same kind of poison tablet several weeks ago and who died after he had calmly arranged all his affairs.

Brice told the physicians that he swallowed the poison in mistake for quinine. According to the physicians at the hospital, Mr. Brice said he took several of the tablets out of a closet before he left home, but did not realize he had mistaken the poison for quinine until it was too late.

Dr. Troxell, who is attending Mr. Brice, said his condition is as satisfactory as can be expected. He said the poison will not be fatal unless it reaches the kidneys.

TWO WOMEN BLOWN UP

One Is Killed and the Other Wounded by an Infernal Machine.

Sherbrooke, Quebec, June 18.—An infernal machine, sent by mail, killed Mrs. Theodore Bilodeau and wounded Miss Bilodeau, her sister-in-law, when it was opened.

The force of the explosion hurled the latter across the room and completely severed one arm. The house was wrecked.

The police have no clue whatever to the sender. Mrs. Bilodeau was the wife of a contractor.

A search of the room revealed pieces of a letter, which evidently had been inside the package containing the bomb. The writing upon these pieces is in French. The police hope, by piecing the fragments together, to trace the writer.

Car Repairmen Go Out and Crews Refuse to Move Trains.

Pottsville, Pa., June 18.—More car repairmen quit at the shops and railroad yards of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway company in Schuylkill county.

The railroad crews have refused to bring coal trains down the heavy mountain grade from Frackville to St. Clair unless the cars are first thoroughly inspected.

It is contended that if this situation lasts for a week it will tie up the coal traffic over the Mahanoy Plane.

THINK GIRL VICTIM OF WHITE SLAVERS

She Visits New York to Shop and Disappears.

STRANGE NOTE ONLY CLEW

Schoolmate Gets Message Saying She Is In Trouble In Strange House Occupied by Italians.

Dover, Del., June 18.—A well authenticated belief that their schoolmate, Miss Annie Mackenzie, has been captured in New York by white slave women while Miss Mackenzie was stopping there on a shopping trip and visit to her aunt, has terrified Miss Julia Ritter, of Dover, and Miss Jane Harrington, of Keene, N. H., Northfield seminary girls, who have just completed their school year.

Annie Mackenzie, fifteen years old, is one of the most vivacious pupils at Northfield. She recently decided to go to New York, where she stopped to visit her aunt, Mrs. Jean Mackenzie, a trained nurse, of West Ninety-second street.

The girl parted with her roommate, Julia Ritter, in the best of spirits. Two days after her arrival in New York, Miss Ritter received the following scrawl of a note written in lead pencil and then pinned in an old shopping envelope, which had evidently been in use in a bedroom as a hair receiver for a woman with light hair, as several strands were still in the envelope. The note was condensed on a scrap of paper and pinned within the torn envelope by a safety pin, evidently taken from the girl's belt. It read:

"Dear Julia—I am in trouble here. I don't know where the house is. The people are Italians. It is in New York somewhere. I can't stand much more. Annie."

It is unmistakably the handwriting and signature of Miss Mackenzie, the girl who stopped in New York to go shopping. Miss Ritter says she would recognize the handwriting anywhere.

"She is a splendid girl and was in the best of spirits when I last saw her. I am confident that she is in great trouble and hope we can find her," said Miss Ritter.

General A. R. Benson, her uncle, has notified the New York police.

MAY CURE WHOOPING COUGH

Important Discovery by French Physician Is Expected.

Paris, June 18.—The discovery soon of a cure for whooping cough was predicted at the Academy of Sciences by Dr. Emile Roux, director of the Pasteur Institute.

Dr. Roux was merely transmitting the report of Dr. Alfred Conon, bacteriologist of the Belvedere Military hospital, Tunis. Dr. Conon and Dr. Nicolle prepared a solution containing living whooping cough bacilli, which they injected into 122 children suffering from the disease. Thirty-seven per cent of the children recovered in less than three weeks, whereas under ordinary treatment the mildest attacks lasted two months.

SPANKING COSTS $100,000

Mother Overturns Stove and Fire Almost Destroys Town.

Monticello, N. Y., June 18.—Mrs. B. Wolfe, of Ferndale, Sullivan county, near here, tried to spank her young son, and in so doing she upset an oil stove.

In the fire that followed twelve business houses and three dwellings, including the Wolfe house, were destroyed. The loss will reach $100,000.

The buildings were all wooden structures and the flames spread so rapidly that nearly all of the business section was wiped out. Firemen from three towns were summoned, and they finally checked the flames with dynamite.

GRANDFATHER MADE A PRIEST

Ordained in Roman Catholic Church at Age of 57.

Altoona, Pa., June 18.—While several of his children and grandchildren looked on, Michael J. Byrne, fifty-seven years old, and for years an actor, was ordained a priest of the Roman Catholic church and took the vows of celibacy.

His wife and two of his children died about five years ago, and his bereavement was partly responsible for his entering St. Francis' college at Loretto, where he completed his studies for the priesthood.

Father Byrne will celebrate his first mass on Sunday at Norwich, Conn., and thereafter will be regularly stationed at Savannah, Ga.

EXCISE TAX ON ALL TRUSTS NEW PLAN

Would Increase According to Extent of Monopoly.

Washington, June 18.—A graduated income tax upon corporations having a capital stock of more than $100,000, and controlling more than one-fourth of the production of their respective lines was proposed to the finance committee by Senator Hitchcock.

Senator Hitchcock said that because the committee had rejected his proposal to lay a special tax of this type upon the "tobacco trust" he offered the new amendment as a substitute.

"I propose to take these amendments to the Democratic caucus, if the finance committee rejects them, and to carry them to the floor of the senate itself if necessary," declared the Nebraska Democrat.

Hitchcock explained that his new proposal to tax the "trusts" provided that on corporations controlling one-third of the production, the tax would be 15 per cent of their net annual profits, and on those controlling 50 per cent a tax of 25 per cent.

"New York papers have denounced my tobacco tax as socialistic," he said. "I am ready to accept anything socialistic if it will do the work. I do not think, when we are faced with big corporations monopolizing products in defiance of law and public opinion and the spirit of decency of court, that we should be too squeamish about the method adopted for dealing with them."

The amendment was referred to the finance committee.

YOU CAN'T GATHER FIGS FROM THISTLES.

Neither can you secure a decent economical and lasting job of painting, if your paint contains adulterated Linseed Oil—The quality is not there. You avoid all risk when you use since you buy the Pure Linseed Oil YOURSELF—at Oil price—and add it to the 2-4-1, the result will be positive, since YOU YOURSELF will have made it so, by using Pure Linseed Oil.

DAVIS' 2-4-1 PAINT

Chickens Without Prejudice

At last, after years of controversy, the truth—the whole truth and NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH—has been written about the various breeds of chickens. With absolute frankness and without the popular prejudices of individuals or organizations, the leading chicken experts of the country have consented to tell what they know about the well-known breeds, the merits and demerits of Brown Leghorns, White Leghorns, Barred Plymouth Rocks, White Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds. They have written a series of articles, and each article will be illustrated by pictures of the best types of birds, taken by the best poultry photographers in the country. The first of the series,

Where Style Is Looked Out For

If you want to radiate style either at home or on your Summer vacation.

Acquaintances away from home, at the seashore, mountains, or elsewhere are pretty apt to judge your position in life, and surely your taste, by your clothes—although the judgment as to position may be unfair.

You need not necessarily be expensively dressed to be well dressed. Style as we show it, at our moderate profits, does not require lavish expenditure. The simple muslin frock may be more effective, when made as our goods are made, than the over-wrought creation in much more expensive material.

So any woman buying her clothing from us, no matter how little she may want to spend, will be stylishly dressed.

For the vacation—one of our Tailored Suits—now much reduced in price. Two or three simple morning Wash Dresses, two or three extra Waists and Wash Skirts—and one of our beautiful Voile or French Mousseline Dresses for evening—will make an outfit pretty enough—stylish enough for any resort.

An extra Coat may be needed for cool evenings—A Kimona or two for the bed room. And if these things are bought from our well assorted stock you will be WELL and stylishly dressed, and at SMALL COST.

We Are Prepared

To Install Cook Stoves and Ranges.
FOR THE NEXT 10 DAYS

Among our stock there are five or six second-hand ranges that are bargains. We will guarantee them to work. You can't afford to miss them if you are looking for a cheap range.

Plenty of new ones to select from. If your present stove is not giving satisfaction it should, telephone or call at our warerooms.
